cal data with respect to taxation and generally covering the operations of business houses.

Preparation of these figures in compliance with the government requirements added greatly to the cost of operations by business firms, he stated.

"No government should meddle with the operation of business in any country," said Mr. Seitz. "For fifty-four years I have watched the development of business in Canada, and in my judgment there is only one way for business to succeed, and that is by individual effort."

"I do not see why we cannot be permitted to operate our businesses as we use to do before government interference became so acute, for 90 per cent of business has always been operated fairly and squarely."

SHOULD PUSH AHEAD

"If business does well, everything does well," he said in stressing signs of improvement in Canada. "There are evidences of a permanent change, and I believe this is the time when we should carefully and firmly go ahead and push business. I think

Japan Not Again To Discuss Peace Of Orient With Powers

M. Hirota added: "Japan is the principal protector of the stability and the peace of eastern Asia."

IN CO-OPERATION

"It is Japan's mission to maintain peace and order in eastern Asia in co-operation with the other countries of the Far East."

"Japan sincerely desires the unification, integrity and prosperity of China, which can be attained only through China's own self-awakening efforts."

M. Hirota said the "so-called assistance given China by outside parties with selfish motives will only hamper this purpose and Japan cannot remain silent when a third party disturbs relations between Japan and China or takes action disturbing the peace of eastern Asia."

"In view of the radical changes the world is undergoing," said M. Hirota, "I believe we shall encounter not a few difficulties in the future although our path at present is rather uneventful."

"We should never be off guard."

GENEVA MEETING RECALLED

The most important passage in the speech, as translated by the Reuters (Japanese) news agency and officially approved, read:

"We have no objection whatever to exchanging views, if necessary, with each individual power regarding treaty rights and interests."

"But, in view of the fact that on questions of east Asia our views are rejected by the powers at the Geneva meeting of the League of Nations, which forced our decision to withdraw from the League, it would surely be unwise to reproduce a situation such as was encountered at Geneva."

MONGOLIAN MOVE

Peking, China, May 4.—Chinese press dispatches to-day stated a special Japanese military mission has been established in Linhai, northwest of Jehol, with object of inducing western Mongolia princes to join Manchukuo.

"I was reported last month that a group of the princes had visited Peking, capital of Manchukuo, Japanese-sponsored state of which Henry Pu-Yi is emperor, under the leadership of a Japanese officer who is said to be directing the Linhai mission."

ligations, especially in regard to interest."

"The financial situation with absolute frankness was placed before the Prime Minister. His letter to Mr. Pattullo was not only a complete refusal of the first request for assistance to implement the programme of work on wages and second the meeting immediately following the meeting, especially in regard to interest, but it was a studied dictation to the government and people of British Columbia in regard to their own affairs and provincial autonomy."

REBUDGETING PROPOSAL

"In other words, the Prime Minister of Canada, if not explicitly, at least implied, has invited the people of B.C. through their government to rebudget their provincial finances and has also informed them that if they do so and cut out necessary expenditures which will probably involve social and humanitarian benefits, and afterwards submit a modified plan to the national government, then in that case the latter will consider doing out a temporary undetermined and unstable financial assistance to enable the provincial treasury to function from month to month."

"This, of course, must be very hurtful to the dignity of the people of British Columbia and the very nature of the qualified refusal to meet British Columbia's request raises issues of possibly a very far-reaching nature. It will be the duty of all citizens of British Columbia regardless of any political affiliations, to re-examine the basic question of our provincial rights within the existing fabric of Confederation and there is no doubt in my mind that there is a grave danger that the attitude adopted by the federal government in regard to our temporary financial difficulties may be fraught with grave consequences in the future development of the nation."

More Motor Travel Already This Year

this year, compared with 201 cars and 481 passengers in 1933. Departing United States automobiles this year numbered 350, with 555 passengers, compared with 230 cars and 532 passengers in the same month of 1933.

Already California cars are arriving in Victoria aboard the fleet of ocean liners that connect this port with San Francisco and Los Angeles. Each ship during the last few weeks has brought several cars, and these arrivals should increase as the season advances. The extra service which the Grace Line will give Victoria, starting on Sunday, should bring more motor cars to Victoria from California.

The chartering by the Puget Sound Navigation Company of the steamer Princess Elizabeth and Princess Joan for service between Port Angeles and Victoria should prove popular with Victorians and should increase travel between the two ports. This service will start June 15.

Pacts With France, Italy and Belgium Deal With Products Britain Not Buying

Sydney, Australia, May 4.—Trade agreements between Australia and France, Italy and Belgium will be presented on the reassembly of the federal parliament, it was announced to-day.

Australia is negotiating agreements with several other European countries, it was also stated.

A few days ago Prime Minister Joseph Lyons declared that in view of threatened restrictions on Australian primary exports to the United Kingdom, the Commonwealth would have to seek the Ottawa markets.

The British Government is known to have rejected an Australian suggestion of drastic reductions in duties on British goods in return for commodities free entry to the British market, the British holding this impossible in view of present efforts to make British agriculture self-supporting.

Australia, essentially an exporter of primary products, must find markets for these products, and in concluding pacts with foreign nations that will limit free entry to the British market, the British holding this impossible in view of present efforts to make British agriculture self-supporting.

Without offence to the Empire, the Australian Government may negotiate with foreign countries, giving preferred treatment to certain of their exports which do not directly conflict with exports from other parts of the Empire, and in return claim preferred treatment for her own products.

No details of the pacts were available yet.

Duncan Girl Wins In Contralto Class

body is a wonderful thing. It will do so many things unconsciously."

What in the last analysis was needed for relaxation was a little ease—the ease of the body, the ease of the mind. "Try to try less" were his last words on the subject.

"We may be misunderstood sometimes, but our whole object is to help the candidates. Remember, your best friends are the adjudicators," said Dr. Collingwood.

The winner of the class for girls under nineteen and over sixteen, was Miss Noel Johnson of Duncan, who secured 88 marks for her singing of the pretty piece, "Shepherd Maidens." Of the twelve competitors, Miss Ellen Bowles singing "Pastorale Rosabelle" came second with 87, and Miss Elsie M. Friend singing "Charming Chorus" was third with 86. The entrants had the privilege of choosing their own songs.

Dr. Percy Hull, after pointing out the difficulty of assessing the performance of the girls in the group, stated that the winners of the contralto and mezzo-soprano classes, stated a number of the contestants did not quite come up to the standard, which he hastened to add, did not mean they should not try again next year. This was particularly true of class 40 for mezzo-soprano.

"SUPERB"

Of the performance of Miss Margaret Myles of Tacoma, the winner of the contralto section, Dr. Hull said was "a really superb bit of singing." She received 90 marks for it, Margaret N. Freeman came second.

Mrs. M. C. Corbett was adjudged the best of the mezzo-soprano, with 88-89-169. Miss Ruth Penman, Seattle, came second, a mark behind Mrs. Corbett. On the programme, that for vocal trios under sixteen, went to Beta Galla, Anne Clemency Ord and Leslie Clark, with a mark of 87. Ronald R. B. Verna, deanna and Helen MacDonald were second with 85. The winners received a challenge cup presented by the Hollywood Ladies' Musical Club and M. O. Campbell.

ELECTIONS

In adjudicating the election, Mrs. Skene said she would like to make clear that it was not only the winners who did good work. The fact that one won did not mean there was only one piece of excellent work.

DEATH MOURNED IN UNITED STATES

LATE WILLIAM H. WOODIN

DEATH CALLS W. H. WOODIN

Former Secretary of Treasury of United States Dies in New York

New York, May 4.—William H. Woodin, whose warm friendship for Franklin D. Roosevelt led him to take the helm of the United States Treasury in one of the nation's gravest crises, died yesterday evening.

The industrialist and composer, whose health had been frail in recent years, died in a hospital of the ravages of a throat infection. He would have been sixty-six years old late this month.

For seven months, through the strain of the national bank holiday and the unprecedented monetary experiments of the "New Deal," Mr. Woodin held to his post until last November, when he first obtained a leave of absence and finally, January 1, resigned as Secretary of the Treasury.

The President several times took occasion to acknowledge the value of the counsel and administrative ability of Mr. Woodin. Criticism—that Mr. Woodin was out of sympathy with what were popularly called "inflationary policies" of the President and that the appearance of his name in the J. P. Morgan inquiry was embarrassing—cropped out occasionally, but the friendship between the President and the Secretary was often publicly affirmed.

Not long before the end, one of Mr. Woodin's physicians related, he had talked affectionately of the President.

WENT TO ARIZONA

Mr. Woodin's throat infection troubled him during the summer of 1933. He came to New York and for a time virtually ran the treasury by telephone.

He went to Arizona, and finally on January 1, Mr. Roosevelt announced his resignation and the appointment of Henry Morgenthau Jr.

On April 2 Mr. Woodin suffered a hemorrhage and was hurried to the Manhattan Eye and Ear Hospital here. He had been critically ill for at least twenty-four hours, unconscious five of them, until his death at 4:15 o'clock yesterday evening.

Mr. Woodin is survived by the widow and a daughter, Mrs. Mary Minor, who were at the bedside, two other daughters, Mrs. O. F. Harvey of New York and Mrs. Wallace W. Rowe of Cincinnati, and a son, William H. Woodin Jr., who is in Arizona for his own health.

Burial arrangements will be in Berwick, Pa., the Woodin family home.

GERMAN DEBT DISCUSSION

Berlin, May 4 (Canadian Press from Havas).—The outcome of the conference on transfers now in progress here is entirely uncertain. Dr. Hjalmar Schacht, Reichsbank president, had declared today, in an interview he reaffirmed there was no intention on the part of the German government of devaluing the mark.

Though national socialism calls for "freedom from the slavery of interest," no sudden change would be attempted, he said.

NEW TOURIST TRADE PLANS ARE STUDIED

As Senate Committee Starts Sessions Communications From All Parts of Canada Indicate Interest

Ottawa, May 4.—Widespread interest prevails throughout the Dominion regarding a national plan for the tourist trade which is being studied by a special committee of the Senate under the chairmanship of Senator W. H. Dennis of Halifax. This was reflected in the deluge of telegrams and letters from all parts of the country which awaited the committee at its organization meeting yesterday.

Representations to the committee were from the officials of the tourist associations, automobile clubs, railway and steamship companies, and from individuals in every province.

"This may well be considered an emergency year in the tourist trade," said Senator Dennis, "because of the fair continuing in Chicago, and changes in conditions in the United States. This committee will make a careful study of the tourist traffic not only in Canada, but in the United States and Great Britain as well."

J. B. Harkin, director of National Parks and the Tourist Branch of the Dominion Department of the Interior, suggested an annual tourist convention be called at Ottawa.

Immigration Cost Cut Urged

Minister Withdraws Estimates in Commons After Debate Over Expenditures

Ottawa, May 4.—Demands for retrenchment in the Immigration Department as long as the flow of new citizens was ebbing developed into a miniature blockade in the Commons yesterday evening. Liberals and Progressives united in proposals for increased economies, leading Hon. Wesley A. Gordon, the Minister, suddenly to withdraw his estimates from the committee and suggest the House continue with other legislation.

Curtailment was first demanded by Pierre F. Casgrain, Liberal, Charlevoix-Saguenay, Quebec.

The appropriation of $1,239,288 represented a decrease of $183,712 from last year, said the minister. It was true, immigration such as he was invited and encouraged prior to 1930 and 1931 had diminished very materially.

To Thomas Reid, Liberal, New Westminster, the minister said there had been a question raised with respect to the Canadian Pacific Steamships importing engineers from the United Kingdom to man their Pacific fleet. Charges that certain Canadian engineers were being discriminated against had been investigated and it had been found they could not qualify for the posts under the law. The matter would be further investigated.

A few years ago a number of British boys with some agricultural training had been successfully placed on Canadian farms, said A. M. Carmichael, Progressive, Kindersley, Sask. With immigration curtailed he thought similar opportunities might be provided for Canadian youths. The Immigration Department might spend a reasonable sum of money on training city and town boys in farm work and in placing them on farms.

The suggestion had much merit, Mr. Gordon agreed. The population of Canada was out of balance, but there might be differences of opinion as to whether the present was a good time to embark on it.

Hon. Charles Stewart, Liberal, Edmonton West, disagreed with the suggestion to place men and boys on farms. "The difficulty is to keep the boys on the farms who are already there because the farmer is having a difficult time to make a living," he stated.

INDIANS ARE DEBATE TOPIC

Commons Hears Reports on Condition of 115,000 Red Men in Canada

Ottawa, May 4.—The Commons centred attention yesterday on the wards of the nation, the 115,000 Indians on the reserves of Canada. Good news and bad news were given the members as to how the red men were faring as civilization marches on. From all parts of Canada members expressed keen interest and sympathy with the dwellers on the reserves in every province.

Hon. T. G. Murphy, head of the Department of Indian Affairs, said trapping had been good on northern reserves during the winter and Indians who followed that occupation were in better financial condition than for the last four years.

A. W. Neill, Independent, Comox-Alberni, objected to the department using interest from trust money held for any band for relief purposes. The Dominion had to give the Indian relief whenever in need, but should not use interest on money belonging to the Indians for the purpose. The funds were the result of selling lands belonging to any band. When a sale was made, half the proceeds were turned over to the band and half held in trust. A band with no funds was entitled to relief, as a band with funds should not have it used for that purpose.

The votes for Indian Reserves and civil government in the Indian Affairs Department, the consideration of which brought on the discussion, was carried.

CONGO RAILWAY IS COMPLETED

Brazzaville, French Equatorial Africa, May 4 (Canadian Press).—The dream of developing the vast resources of the Middle Congo by means of a railway to Pointe Noire and the ocean is being realized.

The railway, which is expected to open and serve 172,411 square miles of tropical country, will be inaugurated by Governor-General Antoninetti, May 29. Regular service will begin June 1.

Auto Licenses On Installments

Canadian Press
Regina, May 4.—Two dollars down and a note for the remainder will secure an automobile licence in the province of Saskatchewan until September 1. The plan was announced yesterday by Hon. A. C. Stewart, Minister of Highways, to give car owners who cannot afford the full amount an opportunity to get their cars on the road again.

BRIDGE AGREEMENT

Washington, May 4 (Canadian Press).—President Roosevelt today had signed the joint resolution of the United States Congress consenting to the agreement between Canada of the Buffalo and Fort Erie, Ont., already consented.

Measure Against False Medicines Given Second Reading in Commons

Canadian Press

Ottawa, May 4.—Aimed at quack remedies which retard proper medical treatment, a government amendment to the Food and Drugs Act received second reading in the Commons yesterday.

The bill would prohibit importation, manufacture, sale or advertising of self-administered remedies for alcoholism, appendicitis, arteriosclerosis, blood poisoning, Bright's disease, cancer, diabetes, diphtheria, dropsy, epilepsy, erysipelas, gall stones, kidney stones, bladder stones, gangrene, gastric and duodenal ulcers, goitre, heart disease, high blood pressure, infantile paralysis, influenza, lock-jaw, locomotor ataxia, obesity, pleurisy, pneumonia, ruptures, scarlet fever, sexual impotence, smallpox, spinal meningitis, trachoma, tuberculosis, tumors, typhoid and venereal diseases. Sponsoring the bill, Hon. Murray Maclean, Minister of Health, said self-treatment often delayed medical care and valuable time should not be lost by combating disease with drug mixtures. The bill also would prevent adulteration of vinegar with acetic acid.

MR. BENNETT'S ULTIMATUM

WHILE THE CORRESPONDENCE BETWEEN Mr. Bennett and Mr. Pattullo is couched in courteous terms, the grim fact which stands out between the lines is that the federal government has refused to lend—it is not asked to give—the funds applied for by the provincial government unless the latter cuts its current deficit of $2,300,000 to a million dollars on the outside. Since it is difficult for the province to cut in view of the record that the Legislature already has authorized the budget now in operation, the British Columbia government is confronted with the necessity of resorting to drastic measures to meet provincial obligations in regard to unemployment, payment of interest on the public debt and the maintenance of the public services.

Obviously, it is impossible for the province to comply with Mr. Bennett's diplomatically worded demand—not "advice," as his supporters naively describe it—that it recall the grants for hospital purposes, the reduction of the one per cent tax in the lower categories and the appropriation for the protection of our timber, it must resort to higher taxation and the reduction of interest on the public debt. The necessary funds must be obtained somewhere. As far as the work and wages programme is concerned the Ottawa rejoinder puts that out of the picture for the present.

Mr. Pattullo has assured Mr. Bennett that the province would undertake to revise the entire financial structure with a view to balancing its budget. On the record that assurance is as good as anything Mr. Bennett himself can give, although the Canadian Premier may not admit that possibility. Even if it had been possible to meet the demands of the federal government in the first session of this Legislature, even if the provincial administration had erred in respect of its hospital and school grants and its reduction of taxation on hard-pressed lower wage earners, it should not have been difficult for Mr. Bennett to accept the assurance of the Premier of this province that he would do everything within his power to balance the budget at the next session. British Columbia is not asking Ottawa for a gift. It has simply requested from the only agency which controls the credit of the country, a loan of some $8,000,000, to meet pressing temporary obligations; an agency, incidentally, to whose treasury this province contributes $30,000,000 a year in taxation, four-fifths of which is expended outside of British Columbia.

British Columbia has received less financial assistance from Ottawa than any of the other western provinces. According to Mr. Rhodes' recent budget speech, Saskatchewan, which, by the way, has a government of the same political party stripe as that of the federal administration, has been loaned $23,550,000; Manitoba $10,986,000 and Alberta $10,501,000; while the loans to British Columbia aggregate $7,048,000. Our Ottawa correspondent advises us that $3,000,000 more have just been advanced to Saskatchewan, which gives that province a total of more than $26,000,000, or nearly three times as much as the aid apportioned to this province. Are we to assume from this that Mr. Bennett's tender solicitude for Saskatchewan is dictated by political considerations? If British Columbia's application for a loan of $8,000,000 were granted, the aggregate loaned to this province by Ottawa would still be $10,000,000 less than that which has been received by Saskatchewan, whose government, it is worth noting, has an election in sight.

Admittedly, the federal administration has its own difficulties. It has a deficit of $135,000,000 itself, but is in the fortunate position of having nobody to demand that it reduce its expenditures. But it also must be admitted that the financial exigencies of the provinces is due very considerably to stupid Dominion policy, to its strangulation of trade by a high tariff devised for the privileged interests which have Mr. Bennett's ear, and its invasion of the field of provincial taxation. If this province had one-third of the revenue collected from it in various ways by Ottawa and expended beyond its boundaries it could finance itself comfortably. We wonder how Mr. Bennett would receive from the people of the province an ultimatum demanding that he expend out there fifty per cent of the money it receives from this source.

Finally, British Columbia's application for a loan, or guarantee, of $8,000,000, is a modest matter in contrast with Mr. Bennett's guarantee of $60,000,000 to the C.P.R., $15,000,000 to the Beaulieu Company and some $25,000,000 to other sources, particularly several big steel interests, for virtually the same purposes as those for which Mr. Pattullo wants a loan of $8,000,000, every cent of which would be repaid. But then, of course, these are powerful private corporations and evidently in Mr. Bennett's mind have their being in a much rarer atmosphere than the province of British Columbia.

CO-OPERATION FOR MONTREAL

DURING THE MUNICIPAL CAMPAIGN which resulted in this election to the majority of Montreal by an overwhelming majority, Mr. Camille Houde promised that he would call to his aid the wisest and most trusted citizens to assist him in shaping his financial and other civic policies. He has now named what he calls an advisory finance board and the banks have agreed to give at once the financial assistance of which the city stands in such dire need.

It appears that $500,000 represented the arrears of debt rent, and this the banks have released and payment now is being made. The banks also have agreed to a temporary loan of $5,500,000 for immediate financial requirements. This advance will be on treasury notes, to be repaid out of taxes and other city income when received. It is required to meet interest payments on city bonds, to the amount of $3,250,000; serial debentures falling due to the amount of $400,000; final payments on school taxes up to April 30, 1934, $1,500,000 and hospital grants and sundry accounts, $350,000.

While the committee appointed only has advisory powers so far, Mayor Houde has made it fairly plain that as soon as the city begins its new proposals regarding the financing and government of the city before the special session of the Legislature at Quebec, a provision will be included to give this committee certain vetoing or controlling powers over the city's expenditures.

The banks hesitated for some time to release the half million dollars until it had the assurance that Quebec would pay up its share of the rent arrears. Quebec was willing to pay its share, even paying a part of it before complete verification of accounts, but Quebec could not pay unless the Dominion government came through with its share. Now, however, Ottawa is willing to pay as soon as it gets the accounts for the months in arrears. The appointment of the advisory finance committee evidently satisfied the banks first of all and then the provincial and federal authorities. Of the condition facing the newly-created body, The Montreal Star says:

This committee—shoulders a heavy responsibility. Our finances are in an alarming condition. Only boldness, sagacity and public spirit can rescue them. When a plan of campaign has been drafted, the mayor intends to take it to Quebec for ratification; and the Prime Minister has already pledged himself to call a special session of the Legislature to deal with the subject. With mayor and Premier and "seven wise men," to say nothing of the executive committee, combined in an intensive study of the situation and a fixed determination to find a way out—and find it soon—the citizens of Montreal will look for an early release from their anxieties.

Montreal's condition, of course, is very similar to that of many other cities of the country. It has arisen from the same cause—unemployment. Like others, it has used every source of revenue; but it had got to the end of its financial tether and had to go to the provincial authorities, which, in turn, had to be assured that the Dominion would do its part.

ONTARIO ELECTIONS NEXT MONTH

PREMIER HENRY OF ONTARIO SPOKE to a large gathering of his supporters in Toronto yesterday and intimated that the provincial general election would be held next month.

These are by no means the happiest of times for governments to go to the country; but Premier Henry has no alternative. The government of which he is now the head was elected five years ago and it has run its statutory course.

On the appointment of Hon. Howard Ferguson as High Commissioner for Canada in Great Britain in December, 1930, Mr. Henry was entrusted with the formation of a new government, so this will be his first appeal as leader of the administration.

If Ontario runs to the form of the last quarter of a century, Mr. Henry still should be Premier after next month's election. Out of a Legislature membership of 112 he commands the support of eighty-five, that being the standing as at January 9 of this year.

With the exception of the period of 1919 to 1923, when Hon. E. C. Drury headed a farmers' government, the administrations of Ontario since 1905 have been Conservative. But the political wind has been changing in various parts of the country in recent months. Federal by-elections have gone heavily against the regime at Ottawa, while Nova Scotia and British Columbia have given Conservative governments very definite marching orders.

Premier Henry, however, may fare better than did Premier Harrington in the eastern province and Premier Tolmie in British Columbia. Incidentally, Premier Anderson of Saskatchewan may also go to the country next month, his government having been in office since June, 1929.

What takes place in Ontario and Saskatchewan may determine the course Mr. Bennett will follow. Present indications are that the Dominion Parliament will still be in session when the two provincial contests are held. But before then, probably well before the King's birthday, Mr. Bennett may have disclosed his programme.

A novel and successful way of loading a shipment of mules destined for Italy from the port of St. John, New Brunswick, is described in a recent bulletin. When a mule hesitated, it was touched with a piece of weakly electrified wire on the hindquarters. A bright young branch salesman got himself into some difficulty for suggesting to his manager that a similar application at headquarters might be worth trying.

There is a gentleman in Turkey who answers to the name of Zaro Agha. He proudly boasts of the fact that he is 160 years old. We have no means of proving the truth of his claim; but what we would like to know is why he is so anxious to get rid of an ailment from which he is suffering is that he can still go on living in this troubled world. The last bulletin on his condition says he is out of danger and "heading for full recovery."

AN ANOMALY IN WOOL
The Country Life in B.C.

Against 16,000,000 pounds of wool and grease exported, Canada imports 80,000,000 pounds of semi-manufactured or manufactured wool. This volume of exports represents, on a grease wool basis, 160,000,000 pounds, or ten times Canada's gross wool exports.

BIGGEST BOOK
The London Express

The world's biggest book is in the British Museum. It is a gazetteer and atlas of the world, printed in Amsterdam in 1586, and is six feet high, four feet wide and six inches thick. It has a wall space to itself and students have to consult it as it stands in that position. The British Museum also has some of the world's smallest books. Some are slightly smaller in size than a postage stamp. There was a great vogue for these tiny books a century ago, and they were carried in the waistcoat pocket.

Ottawa and Its Politics

"Between You and Me"—The Various Parties—A Melting Pot.

By BRUCE HUTCHISON

OTTAWA.

BETWEEN YOU AND ME, and not to go any further," said the obscure western statesman, looking up and down the stone corridor to make sure we were not observed—"between you and me, things don't look so good. In the old days a man knew what he was doing and where he was going. But now I sometimes wonder whether the world or I have gone crazy. Everything upside down! Everybody got a different idea. I ask you, what is going to happen? Between you and me, and not to be repeated, I don't know. Between you and me, I don't think anybody does."

He wandered off into the mighty labyrinth of Parliament, shaking his head sadly, remembering the days when Ottawa knew where it was going, the far-off days which he may never see again.

Everybody in Ottawa is wandering off and shaking his head sadly just now. Everybody admits, just between you and me, that he doesn't know what is going to happen. War preparations in Europe—NRA in the United States—the rising tide of the Douglas Plan and new-fangled credit ideas—the collapse of world trade—the clamor of the public for some new thing—all these wild, incalculable currents blowing through a mad world are sweeping Parliament Hill these days like a blizzard off the Laurentians.

CONSERVATIVE PHENOMENON

FIRST OF ALL, you come upon the strange phenomenon of the Conservative Party, the party of the right rapidly trying to make itself the party of the left. To-night I was sitting at a banquet between a veteran Conservative senator and a Liberal member of the Commons from British Columbia.

"You, my friend," said the Conservative senator to the Liberal member, "are the real Tories to-day. We are the radicals." The elder statesman seemed rather proud of it, after a long life of reaction, seemed to enjoy the new sensation of being on the left.

How it came about no one seems to know, and whether it is a real conversion, a conscious change of historic policy, no one can say. Liberals will tell you, of course, that Mr. Bennett is just preparing window dressing for an early election. Conservatives, on the other hand, will tell you that Mr. Bennett is merely interpreting his lifelong work on behalf of the common people.

All we know is that Premier Bennett, the arch-Conservative, the great capitalist in politics, the high priest of the Old Deal, has suddenly proposed a New Deal of some sort, has introduced legislation so radical that one of the chief brains of the C.C.F. told me to-day that, with a few words changed, it formed the complete foundation for a Socialist state—a foundation on which the C.C.F. if it is ever elected, will be able to build the Co-operative Commonwealth.

The central bank is the first cornerstone of this foundation; not perfect from the standpoint of the Socialist or of the advanced Liberal, by any means, but capable of change at a moment's notice into an instrument which could nationalize credit overnight, give us a new economic and fiscal system to-morrow morning.

On top of that comes the new marketing act, not just a plan to sell what or applier, not just a scheme whereby some farmers in the Okanagan or the Fraser Valley can get together and protect their prices, but an all-encompassing programme of social control under which the government of Canada can establish, in basic industry at least, that vague thing known as a Planned Economy. A bright young branch salesman got himself into some difficulty for suggesting to his manager that a similar application at headquarters might be worth trying.

you mustn't sell your apples in a certain place or even that you mustn't sell them at all.
Add the products of the mines to this plan for farms, fisheries and forests, as the C.C.F. will try to do, and you give the Canadian Government Rooseveltian powers to direct just about every basic industrial activity in the country. If that is not economic radicalism, what is? The government replies, of course, that it has no intention of doing all these things, that it is merely trying to solve the problems of agriculture. But that will be the law of the land unless Parliament alters it. This, surely, coming from a Conservative government, represents one of the most profound changes in our political history. Couple with it the powers taken by the government to maintain (Turn to Page 8, Col. 7)

THE RHYMING OPTIMIST

By ALINE MICHAELIS

YOU HAVE GONE ON

I have your memory, nothing more
Of you is left me from the time
Since you came singing through my door
And set my prose of life to rhyme.
You have gone on, with song still sweet
Upon your lips and in your breast,
You have gone past with dancing feet,
A thing too fair to be possessed.
And still your image dwells with me,
You greet me from the window sill,
And though I wander, land and sea,
In each place I find you there.
You have gone on, a singing lass,
Lost somewhere in the world's maze;
But something of you will not pass
From out my heart through all my days.

Other People's Views

"FREE AND EQUAL"

To the Editor:—In your issue of April 30, on page fifteen, there is the following reference to a lecturer: "He drew attention to three widespread beliefs which he considered were not true . . . the first was that expressed in the first line of the United States Constitution: 'All men are born free and equal.'"

This statement contains two errors not infrequently made even by some of the most learned of laymen: First, the U.S. Constitution (1787) does not contain the phrase quoted.
The Declaration of Independence (1776) did, however, commence its second paragraph: "We hold these truths to be self-evident, that all men are created equal . . ."

Jefferson, a Colonial lawyer, drafted the Declaration of Independence, an English barrister was on the committee which decided its final form; five English barristers signed it and in commemoration, a copy hangs at the entrance of the barristers' Middle Temple law library in London.
A barrister of the Middle Temple, London, was on the committee which settled the form of the U.S. Constitution and several English barristers also signed it.
Both documents must be read in the light of Colonial and world conditions of the period, and regard must likewise be had to the fact that they were drawn by lawyers.
When these points are borne in mind, it will be evident that the second error above mentioned, lies in the misinterpretation of the phrase "all men are created equal."
The real meaning, to be derived alike from a study of the context of the whole instrument as well as the circumstances of the time, shows that equality before the law was referred to, in contradistinction to the special privileges enjoyed by a few in Europe, such as hereditary political rights, "benefits of the peerage," and "without benefit of clergy," etc.
In passing, it is very interesting to (Turn to Page 18, Col. 6)

He cashed a cheque IN MID-OCEAN

"There have been times," said a friend who has travelled widely, "when I have found my immediate supply of ready money practically exhausted, with the nearest bank located on land some hundreds of miles away."

"It is to meet such a situation that I always buy travellers' cheques from Imperial Bank of Canada. These cheques are honored everywhere—and they obviate the need of carrying large sums of currency."

HOROSCOPE

"The stars incline, but do not compel"

SATURDAY, MAY 5, 1934

Adverse planetary influences are strong to-day, according to astrology. It is a day on which to proceed slowly and not to trust one's judgment too implicitly.

The sign for industry is fairly good to-day, but the stars warn that there should be co-operation unless serious results are to ensue. United effort is imperative under the summer's prognostications.

Women are well directed by the stars to-day. It is a lucky wedding date, even though May may not be a fashionable month for marriages.

This is a favorable day for the wearing of new clothing and the beginning of romances of many sorts. Even the middle-aged may be susceptible.

It is not an auspicious rule for signing leases or contracts. Changes of plans may follow.

Mars again is read as in threatening mood. Conflict in Europe and Asia may cause anxiety for the world, now so disturbed by economic problems.

Men and women should avoid arguments or quarrels. Nerves may be unreliable and trouble easily started.

While astrologers prognosticate return of better days in business and the professions they warn that there will be frequent and dangerous conflicts of opinion between persons between organizations and between nations.

Children born on this day probably will be high-strung, inclined to arrogance and exceedingly gifted. Many will reach prominence.

The stars foreshadow many explosions.

mental as well as material. Mines and public works may be scenes of accidents, but far greater peril lies in the field of international relations.

Persons whose birthdate it is have the augury of a year of ups and downs. It will be well to avoid litigation or reprisals of any sort.

Karl Marx, famous Socialist, was born on this day, 1818. Others who have celebrated it as a birthday include John William Draper, physiologist and chemist, 1811, and James Harvey Lincolne, naturalist, 1797.

SUNSHINE BAD FOR THIS CHILD

Associated Press

San Francisco, May 4.—Little Eugene Bennett, five, of Jackson, Amador County, was in a hospital to-day because he cannot play in the sunshine.

Physicians said sunlight causes blisters to break out on the boy's skin because he is suffering from the rare disease of hydra aestivale, in which sunshine breaks down the hemoglobin in the blood.

When the child plays outdoors he must wear cotton mittens and his face and body also must be covered.

Dr. L. Z. Hardgrave said he was making efforts to desensitize the child's skin by administration of resorcin in minute doses.

"Not at all; merely trying to find out where I stand—knowing, as I do, no more than that my back's to the wall. I confess I don't see why you can't be frank with me and put your cards on the table. For my part, I don't mind admitting I haven't any relief for the prospect of being publicly accused of this pseudo-theft, though I know you will never be able to pin it on me."

"Oh, as for that," Pion in all candor owned, "I confess I shan't be

THE Lone Wolf's Son

By Louis Joseph Vance

"The Habsburg emerald!" The Rajah stammered; his stare widened. "What have they to do with my missing ruby?"

"That is for you to tell me, I think," Lanyard didn't trouble to disguise the pleasure it gave him to believe that a shaft loosed at random had lodged close to the quick. "I only know that attempts have been made to rob their owner on voyage; that it has been proposed to me that I steal them on shares, once they have been passed through the American Customs—which would seem to indicate a sure market in sight for stones that normally would be difficult to dispose of, but sure, the glances of intelligence, half-dismayed, half-jubilant, which the Rajah tried to trade with Tess Boyce and Iquith; but the instant passed, to the sound of Iquith's tired sarcastic accents:

"Man's more mad than insolent, if you ask me."

This the woman capped with a throaty cry. "Good grief!" And Lanyard saw her in a stare at the doorway to the anteroom. "Who's that?"

CHAPTER XXVI

From the threshold came a response of false diffidence:

"Acting for the captain at his request and with your permission, madame, messieurs."

It was Pion who introduced himself.

The salient features of the Frenchman worked in spite of every effort to control them; glee flashed on them like phosphorescence as he lent attention to the Rajah's grievances— from which, be sure, an indictment of Lanyard for card-sharping was not omitted. Before it was finished, Pion was giving his lean and hairy hands a nice dry wash.

"Yes," he kept interjecting above a hissing prey, "yes, yes. And very gratifying," he pronounced at the conclusion, with a smack of dry lips like the snap of a book. "Very!"

By what appears, monsieur," his sharp small eyes sprang Lanyard with their spleen—"you did not take me seriously when I advised you to keep out of mischief for the remainder of this voyage."

"Don't thank me, monsieur," Lanyard politely insisted; "thank His Highness, rather, and his collaborators in the staging of this scene for your delight."

"Oh, as for that," Pion in all candor owned, "I confess I shan't be sorry to see you put out of harm's way till we sight Chabourgue again."

"Under lock and key, monsieur will be at least secure from the persecution which he alleges every time one finds him involved in some new scandal."

"But note that I am still at large, and of no mind to be otherwise."

"Do not deceive yourself; you are as good as under arrest already. Did I not serve notice on you last night that the captain was at the end of his patience and would not another time give you the benefit of the doubt?"

"One is unaware of having ever asked for any."

"It has none the less stood you twice in good stead since you left France, I am afraid you will regret this time, having forfeited the right to claim it."

"Even though it be proved I am unjustly accused?"

"Even in that improbable contingency, monsieur—unless, naturally, you are prepared to clear yourself by pointing the finger at someone else."

"Many thanks for the compliment; but that is work for finer wits than mine—I can't pretend to rival the great Pion. I can only say, for whatever it may be worth to you, it is my conviction that a proper search will bring the ring to light—a search, understand me, not only of these rooms, but of everybody in them, to which I for one will gracefully submit, only on condition that my host himself is equally complaisant."

"Mr. Iquith was right," the Rajah disdainedly commented, "the fellow is plainly out of his head when he suggests that I subject my guests, much more myself, to such indignity."

"Then I am afraid you will have to seek your ruby otherwise than by personal search—as far, at least, as I am concerned."

"As a last resort, however," Pion cheerfully pointed out, "we can always force."

"It will have to be overpowering, I promise, and you must be prepared for every remedy at command of a French citizen whose legal rights have been violated on what is technically French soil."

After an instant Pion with a grimace of distaste conceded: "There is that, to be sure"—and looked to the others as if for prompting.

"What?" Iquith obliged in faint impatience. "If you mean to say you, an officer of the law, can tolerate in a case like this, when the suspect is a notorious criminal?"

Dorothy Dix

A YOUNG MAN was describing to me the other day the type of girl that he wanted for a wife. "She must be pretty, of course," he said, "and a good dresser, for I am a lover of beauty and couldn't stand looking at a chromo for thirty or forty years, nor could I endure a wife who was a frump and looked like something that had just been fished out of the ragbag."

"Nor would I marry a girl unless she was intelligent and well-educated. None of your Dumb Dicks for me. I want a wife who will be a companion who will not only keep me entertained and amused but mentally stimulated."

"I want a wife who will read all the new books, see the good plays, belong to clubs, be interested in movements and be on the up and up. Heaven save me from a wife who never reads anything but the baby book after she is married, and who has no conversation that does not appertain to the nursery and the kitchen. Being bored to extinction is such a painful and lingering way to die."

"Naturally my wife must be domestic. Any woman is a false alarm as a wife who isn't a good cook and a crackjack housekeeper. I don't propose to ruin my stomach on meals that would give an ostrich chronic indigestion, nor do I wish to see my hard-earned money cast into the garbage can by a wasteful woman who can throw more out of the back door with a teaspoon than I can put in at the front door with a shovel."

"I want my wife to be thrifty, one of the sort who is an adept penny-pincher, who can make one dollar do the work of five; who can set a good table without running up the grocery and butcher bills, and look like a million dollars in a basement bargain frock."

"I am fond of outdoor sports and I want my wife to play around with me. I would like her to grab her golf sticks or her tennis racket whenever I could get off for a game. And I'd like her to play a good game of bridge. And I'd want her to be always ready to step out with me when I wanted a little diversion."

"That's the kind of a girl I want for a wife."

With almost superhuman self-control, I refrained from asking this modest-youth what he had to offer this paragon of his sex. Instead I said:

"They do these things better in the Orient. There a man does not attempt to combine every known feminine grace and virtue in one wife. He distributes his demands among a dozen, which is possibly the reason that there are fewer divorces in those countries than there are with us. The heaven must look like a temple of refuge to many a poor, harassed, exhausted American woman trying to live up to her husband's ideal of what a wife should be."

But isn't that what is mainly the matter with marriage, and the reason there are so many disappointed and disillusioned husbands and wives? They expected their mates to combine in one limited human being all sorts of antagonistic qualities, and when they failed to do it they cried out that they had been cheated and wanted to have their contracts broken."

Which is, of course, as foolish as it is to say that a dress is a failure because it is not a bungalow apron in the morning and ball gown at night, or that one has been defrauded in buying a car if it is not both a limousine and a truck. It is only in marriage that we expect miracles to take place.

There are very few men and women who are not good husbands and wives on one count and who would give satisfaction if taken on that basis. The trouble comes in when their mates demand that to their natural virtues they add all sorts of frills and furbelows in the way of charms and graces.

A woman, for instance, is married to a good, honest, devoted husband who never looks at another woman and toils early and late to provide her with every comfort and luxury. But does she consider herself the favorite daughter of Lady Luck? Not at all. She spends her time bemoaning her fate because the man she is married to isn't a romantic hero and an impassioned lover and a highbrow and glib and a movie sheik in looks in addition to being a domestic man and a good provider.

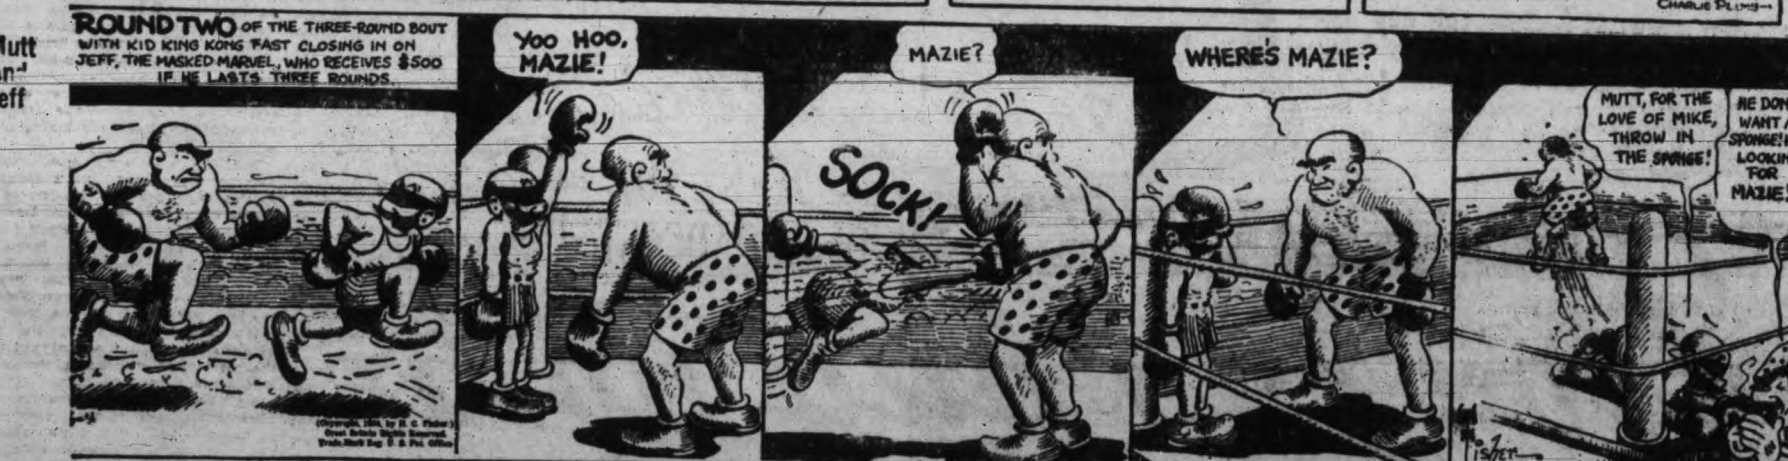

And the woman who marries the temperamental youth who feeds her soul on white hyacinths, but skimps her on bread and butter, isn't satisfied with having a husband who quotes poetry to her and writes sonnets to her eyebrows. She wants him also to be a money-maker and to settle down into being Darry instead of Romeo.

And it is the same way with men. The man who is married to a thrifty, domestic woman doesn't thank God for the blessing He has bestowed upon him. He is disappointed because she isn't a scintillating conversationalist and a prize beauty and a brilliant musician like him.

Nor is he better satisfied if he marries the living picture or the lady spellbinder. He feels that he has been taken in because the beauty refuses to try out her complexion over the kitchen stove and runs up big bills for pretty frocks, and the spellbinder is always running around hunting an audience.

And so it goes. We want our husbands and wives to have not one virtue, but all of the fifty-seven different varieties. And we never find this concatenation of charms and good qualities, no matter how many divorces we get, nor how often we remarry, because there is no such animal.

Uncle Wiggly's May Flowers

By HOWARD R. GARIS

Uncle Wiggly's rabbit lady wife was very glad and happy when she brought home the bouquet of May flowers which she had just picked in the garden. "Oh, they are just lovely!" said Mrs. Wiggly. "I am glad you like them, my dear," said the rabbit gentleman. "Here, Nurse Jane, have a sniff!" invited Mrs. Wiggly. "The muskrat lady housekeeper asked me to bring you some flowers, and she said they were just lovely!" said Mrs. Wiggly. "But do you know what I think you should do?" Uncle Wiggly asked. "I think you should pick them for me!" said Mrs. Wiggly. "You should gather some May blossoms for the Lady Mouse Teacher in the Hallow Stump School," said Mrs. Wiggly. "I am animal children that the lady mouse is out gathering flowers. And she has no one to help her. I have no time to go to school," said Mrs. Wiggly. "I think not," answered Uncle Wiggly. "After school, when the children run out to play, Miss Mouse must stay in the class room and get the work over for next day, or she must look over and correct the lesson papers the children hand in. No, I think she has no time to gather May flowers."

MOURN LOSS OF FEDERAL MEMBER

Canadian Press
Ottawa, May 3. — Leaders of the Commons united yesterday in expressing sympathy in the death of Lieut.-Col. R. Herbert Lennox, who represented North York in the House. In the absence of Prime Minister Bennett, Hon. Hugh Guthrie, Minister of Justice, declared that "the suddenness of the death had caused most profound sorrow."

Rt. Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King referred to the large personal and political following Col. Lennox had in North York constituency.

With the death of Col. Lennox there are two vacancies in the House of Commons, the other being in Toronto East, as a result of the death of Hon. E. B. Ryckman, former Minister of National Revenue. The standing in the House is now: Conservatives 135, Liberals eighty-eight, Liberal-Progressives three, Progressives one, United Farmers of Alberta ten, Labor three, Independent Labor one, Independent two, and vacant two.

Simple Rules Prevent HEADACHES

The best way to prevent the only safe, available way—to avoid headaches is to obey Nature. Live a moderate life. Eat moderately, sleep sufficiently. Get lots of fresh air, exercise and recreation. Avoid worry. And, once or twice each week, enjoy a refreshing, pleasant-tasting glass of Andrews Liver Salt.

This last rule is extremely important. Even with the most careful living and the most regular physical habits you may still suffer from the effects of incomplete elimination of body wastes. Thousands of people suffer from this cause without suspecting it. Occasional use of Andrews helps your eliminative organs to function completely. It cures headaches, indigestion, general body weariness, and the "little ills."

Begin following these simple rules for healthy living. Take Andrews once or twice each week. Then you will escape those headaches which bother you so often now—and you will enjoy the pleasure of vigorous good health.

All druggists sell Andrews Liver Salt. In 35¢ and 60¢. New, large bottle, 75¢. Sole Agents: John A. Huston Co., Ltd., Toronto.

MAN MAULED BY COUGAR

Sam Jensen Badly Bitten as He Fought Off Wild Cat on West Coast Trail

Holberg, B.C., May 4.—Severely bruised and bitten in a battle with a cougar which attacked him yesterday as he walked along a lonely trail, Sam Jensen is recovering at his ranch home near this small Vancouver Island settlement.

Mr. Jensen stated the big cat was crouched on a bank alongside the trail and it leaped upon him without warning, knocking him to the ground and causing him to lose his grip on the axe he was carrying.

The animal seized Jensen by the left arm above the elbow and the rancher wrestled desperately for several minutes before he was able to recover his axe. He was then only able to strike the cougar several times on the back and shoulders, but his blows forced the animal to release its hold. Jensen escaped when the animal moved away a few feet. He made his way home.

Nels Hansen left immediately with his dog and found the animal where it had attacked Jensen. It was treed quickly and shot.

The rancher is suffering from shock in addition to the tooth holes in his arm and bruises and scratches on his body.

DR. A. D. MORGAN DIES SUDDENLY

Funeral of Well-known West Coast Physician Will Take Place on Sunday

Port Alberni, May 4.—Dr. A. D. Morgan, well-known physician and surgeon who died suddenly at his home yesterday, will be widely mourned throughout the district.

The funeral will take place from All Saints' Church on Sunday.

The late Dr. Morgan first took up his residence in Alberni in 1906, before the railway was built. A native of Nanaimo, he graduated from McGill University, and for a time practiced medicine in the Gulf of Mexico. He was a Conservative and at one

New "Robin Hood" Broadway Mystery

New York, May 4.—One of the minor mysteries along Broadway concerns a middle-aged man, somewhat poorly dressed, who stems the theatre crowds and does a quite successful job of pan-handling. It is reported that he knows just which people to bully, which to twiddle, and which to win with elaborate lies.

When he collects a couple of dollars he goes into a cafeteria, changes the whole sum into nickels, then goes back on the street and passes out a coin or two to every bum he meets. There are all sorts of opinions regarding his identity—that he is an ex-music publisher, now penniless, whose pride finds solace in such a gesture; and that he is a wealthy fellow masquerading as a bum to indulge in a sort of Robin Hood complex.

TO LOOK FOR NEW QUARTERS

Committee Appointed to Find Offices For Saanich Welfare Association

New premises for the Saanich Welfare Association will be decided upon by a committee of Reeve Crouch, Miss K. Oldfield and Mrs. Wm. Dealey, the municipal council decided yesterday evening.

A delegation from the association explained the school board had requested present offices in Tillicum School be vacated as soon as possible. Councillor H. D. Cotton, Ward Five, thought it hard on the women who were doing such good work to be asked to vacate.

"I believe the trustees' request was due to criticism—which I think was unfair—that the work had interfered with school routine," stated Councillor G. S. Eldridge, Ward Seven. It was felt some satisfactory headquarters might be found, although, as Miss Oldfield pointed out, most of the work was carried out in Ward Seven.

Strawberry Vale

The final card party of the season was held in the Strawberry Vale Women's Institute hall on Monday evening under the auspices of the institute. Prizes were won by (1) Mr. Olsson and Mr. Foley, (2) Miss D. Fulton and W. D. Paine, and (3) Mrs. Hemley and Gilbert McNutt.

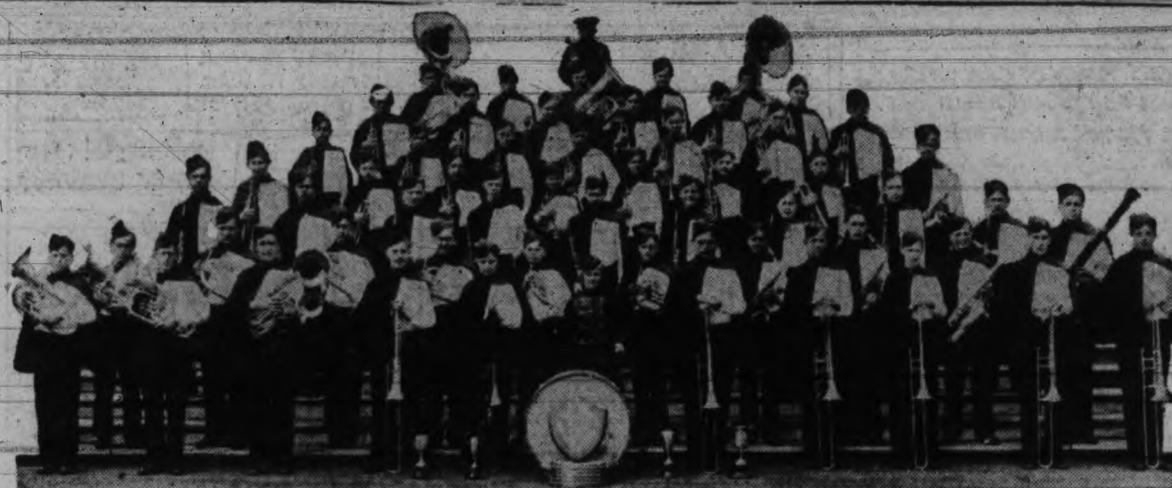

Mrs. Harper was convener assisted by Miss L. Rowland. Old-time dancing followed the games.

The Saanich Police Department attended sixty-three complaints during April, according to Chief Allan Rankin's monthly report presented to the board of police commissioners yesterday evening. There were two motor accidents and one court case and $402.26 was collected in fines and other fees, the report stated.

time ran as a candidate on the party ticket in this riding, but was defeated.

The late Dr. Morgan took an active part in Masonry and was past master of the local Barkley Lodge, besides being a past deputy grand for the district. He also was a prominent Elk. He was held in such high respect that when the local order of the Eastern Star was formed it received his permission to call itself the Morgan Chapter. Dr. Morgan had been in failing health, and last year had to give up his active work for some time. Besides being coroner for the district he was also doctor to the Indians under the Indian Department, provincial medical health officer and C.P.R. doctor.

He is survived by his widow in Alberni, and two brothers, Frank of Parkville and Mark of Vancouver, besides a sister, Grace.

Face Disfigured with Pimples. Lasted 3 Months. Cuticura Healed.

"I had been bothered for quite a long time with red pimples breaking out over my face and body, the skin being sore and red. The pimples were itchy and bothersome, causing me to scratch, leaving my face disfigured with blotches. This trouble lasted about three months and I used several remedies, but without relief. Then I read about Cuticura Soap and Ointment and sent for a free sample. I bought more and after I had used two cakes of Cuticura Soap and one box of Cuticura Ointment I was healed." MR. G. S. ELDRIDGE, whose firm determined the unsurpassed qualities of Home Gas, is the President of a firm of industrial engineers, who for many years have been one of the leading investigating and technical firms in Canada, and whose unbiased investigation proved the truth of the statement that when you buy Home Gas, "You can buy no better." Mr. Eldridge, with 21 years' service to his credit in this province, has affiliations all across Canada, in the United States, England and Europe.

Dear Sirs:—
We have completed a series of duplicate chemical and practical tests on samples taken by us of the four leading brands of gasoline for sale on this market, to determine the relative value of each from the point of view of the automobile owner, particularly from the standpoint of quick starting, acceleration, power, and mileage.
From the results of our complete series of check tests on the above samples, we have proved that the statement made by you that "you can buy no better gasoline on this market than "Home", is correct.

Yours faithfully,
G.S.ELDRIDGE & COMPANY.

PART OF CLAM IS ELIMINATED

Judge Lampman to-day ordered one more elimination from the defence pleadings in the suit of H. A. Beckwith and H. W. Davey against the Misses Margaret and Mary Shaw of the Uplands for the balance of their estate for a $23,000 settlement with F. B. Pemberton in connection with the investments of the Misses Shaw.

Mr. Haldane, counsel for Messrs. Beckwith and Davey, told the court he had made application to P. J. Sinnott, defence counsel, for further particulars with regard to the statement of the Misses Shaw that the lawyers had received certain moneys from Mr. Pemberton for themselves in connection with the acceptance of the settlement, and that they had not disclosed the receipt of these moneys. Mr. Haldane said the Misses Shaw had so far failed to comply with the application for the information and that therefore that part of their claim should be eliminated.

"The plaintiffs, Mr. Beckwith and Mr. Davey, have now furnished us with an affidavit which has placed the aspect of the case in a different light," Mr. Sinnott said. "In their affidavit they state they have received no further or undisclosed moneys from Mr. Pemberton as remuneration for costs in this settlement. Mr. Davey and Mr. Beckwith now both take an affidavit that this is not so and I am prepared to accept their statement."

When Mr. Sinnott objected to the series of isolated attacks upon the defence case, which he declared were running up costs and should be all made at one time, Mr. Haldane replied by reading a letter from Messrs. Beckwith and Davey to Mr. Sinnott regarding a particularized statement of the amounts the Misses Shaw claimed were paid. Mr. Haldane pointed out that as this letter was dated only May 1 the matter could not have been brought up before.

Mr. Haldane declared that many things were put forward in the defence of the Misses Shaw which they seemed to regard lightly.

The judge ordered the elimination as applied for by Mr. Sinnott.

Wright, 1023 Clapham Street, was backing out from the Marshall car, when the car was struck by a third, driven by R. M. Williams, 749 Broughton Street. WANT LOWER FERRY RATES

City Council Committee and Real Estate Board to Request Cut in Fares

Joint action by the industrial and trades development committee of the City Council, representatives of the Real Estate Board of Victoria and other public bodies interested in the matter, was forecast to-day in a move to seek lower car ferry rates between Victoria and the mainland. The matter was brought up for discussion at the annual meeting of the Real Estate Board in Spencer's dining-room to-day.

James Forman, executive member of the Real Estate Board, suggested action be taken in an effort to increase tourist travel on the island. Many potential visitors driving to adjacent mainland cities, found costs of transportation to Victoria excessive, he said. He suggested the transportation companies be approached with a view to making special inducements to the motor traveler to visit this city during the summer season. Such a move would be of tremendous value to the hotels on the island, he declared.

T. J. Goodlake, president of the board, declared the question was one which would arouse considerable interest in the executive of the board. Alderman Alex Feden, chairman of the city industrial and trades development committee, informed the gathering this body had the matter under consideration at the present time.

The committee would be glad to have a delegation from the Real Estate Board of Victoria confer with it on the question of rates. To welcome the board's support in the request it would make to the authorities when time was opportune.

Alderman R. T. W. Wilson expressed the hope the other public bodies of Victoria would lend their support to the proposal.

EARTH SHOCKS IN ALASKA

Quake Which Broke Windows at Anchorage Recorded in Victoria

Canadian Press
Anchorage, Alaska, May 4.—Lasting ninety seconds and breaking plate glass windows in several stores, as well as shaking goods from their shelves, a sharp earthquake was felt here at 6:35 yesterday evening. People ran from their homes to the streets in confusion.

Within a short time, reports came in that it had been felt several hundred miles away, as far north as Fairbanks and Nenana, and to the westward.

No reports came in of anyone being injured.

The quake was the most severe here since that of April 28 last, when great crevices were split in the earth between the south fork of the Kuskokwim and the head of Cook Inlet.

RECORDED HERE
A very large earthquake, believed to have its centre 1,200 miles from Victoria, probably in the sea off the Alaskan coast, was recorded at Victoria Observatory last night at 8:40 o'clock. It lasted four hours.

Toronto, May 4.—A strong earthquake, which centred about 2,800 miles from Toronto, was recorded on the seismograph at the Dominion observatory here yesterday evening. The preliminary shock was felt at 23:43.54.

IS LAID TO REST
The funeral of Archibald Edward Hood, who passed away on Monday took place yesterday afternoon, W. N. Weston, of the Truth Centre, officiating. Many friends attended the service, and a profusion of beautiful floral offerings covered the casket and hearse. The hymn sung was "Peace, Perfect Peace," and a solo, "In the Garden," was rendered by Mrs. F. L. Thompson. The following were pallbearers: James Erick, E. E. Head, J. B. Shaw, William C. Ellis, William Mathison and K. M. Chadwick. Interment was in Royal Oak Burial Park.

Market Notes
A serious shortage of root vegetables is being felt in the city at present. Last year's stocks of turnips, cabbages and carrots are all cleared out, and the season is still too early for any large supply of new produce.

No further shipments of California lettuce are expected, with the local producers supplying the whole of the city's demand.

Wholesalers are expecting strawberries from Washington next week. The California product will be off the market after the week-end, and the prices will be slightly higher.

There will be a shortage of asparagus over the week-end, owing mainly to the change in weather.

Two carloads of navel oranges are expected from California to-morrow. A similar shipment will be received at the end of next week. These will be the last arrivals for the year. Valencia will then take up the city's orange requirements.

A large and varied shipment of produce is expected from California to-morrow. The cargo will include new potatoes, green peas, carrots, cabbage, and the year's first consignment of canteloupes.

The body was found by his brother, E. Exton, 1770 Lansdowne Road, at 2 o'clock, at Sands Road, and after investigation, ordered removal of the body to Sands Mortuary.

Officers of Real Estate Board Placed in Office Officially To-day

T. J. Goodlake, popular president of the Real Estate Board of Victoria, was installed in that office for the second successive year at the board's annual meeting in Spencer's dining-room to-day.

Major Cuthbert Holmes officiated as installing officer.

Major M. K. Crockett was installed as first vice-president; E. S. Heath second vice-president, and J. C. Bridgman, James Forman, Alex Gillespie, A. R. Wolfenden, Arthur Lee and F. J. D. Pemberton, members of the executive committee, Hubert Lethaby was returned as secretary.

Reports were received and approved and Mr. Goodlake expressed his appreciation of the honor accorded him. The president presented to the board a new gavel, made in the form of one given to an organization he represented by the Mayor of Victoria.

The new gavel, he stated, had been made from a piece of red pine taken from the sanctuary of Christ Church Cathedral.

During the meeting, Alderman R. A. C. Dewar, chairman of the city lands committee, spoke of the city's interest in real estate. The city, he said, was very anxious to put a levy on property on a tax-paying basis, but faced with considerable opposition in this aim through high taxation and depressed conditions.

The council, he concluded, was highly desirous of having the co-operation of the Real Estate Board.

INSANE MOVED TO NEW WING

Extra Accommodation Only Partly Meets Problem of Overcrowding

The new wing of the Escondido Mental Home which was built several years ago but which the government decided only recently to put into service, will be fully occupied within a month or six weeks, it was learned from the Provincial Secretary's Department to-day.

The gradual transfer of patients from the old building, which has been considerably overcrowded, has been proceeding for some time, and although the new wing will accommodate 150 patients, it is hoped that a small measure of the vast problem of caring for the insane of the province.

Members of the present Escondido staff are being used to take charge of the new wing, and as they are transferred it may be necessary to add to the staff in the old building to take over the duties they discharged there.

ADVERTISING IS SKETCHED

Newspaper Offers Best Field For Business Men, Says A. V. Clarke

Because of the speed and ease with which it reaches the public, newspaper advertising is given precedence over all other means, A. V. Clarke of the Clarke Advertising Agency told members of the Credit Grantees' Association to-day at their luncheon meeting in Spencer's dining-room.

Mr. Clarke recommended newspaper advertising for the smaller business men, stating the space or appropriation should be determined by the size of the turnover and the importance of the commodity advertised.

The question of advertising, he stated, was an abstract thing and it was the duty of the advertising agent to interpret the personality of the store to the clientele which he was trying to reach. No advertisement should be attempted unless the agent had a clear mind picture of the purchaser he was seeking, Mr. Clarke stated.

Another duty was the creation of desire in the mind of the purchaser. This he exemplified by the selling of radios when they were first introduced. Creation of the desire had insured a steady sale for them, he said.

It was somewhat difficult for the small business man to obtain good results from a small appropriation for advertising, but there were various ways and means by which results might be accomplished.

Referring to advertising in Victoria, Mr. Clarke said it was complicated because of the city's limited industrial developments. Chief efforts should be devoted towards advertising as a tourist centre, he claimed, and every organization should endorse the idea of the Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau.

SPEEDY AND EASY
Methods of advertising were determined by the type of person a merchant wanted to reach. A man in a modest business could do no better than utilize newspaper advertising which offered a speedy and easy service, he stated.

The more important a product was, the less space it was necessary to employ to advertise it, Mr. Clarke maintained. In this respect, advertising agents were able to be of assistance because they benefited from results of other people, for there was probably no other business in which the results were interchanged to such an extent in advertising, he added.

It was necessary for an agent to limit his clients to one firm in each trade in order that his client might maintain complete faith in him which he could not have if he had a competitor whom the agent was also representing. This explained why some firms had never been approached by advertising agents.

In answer to a question, Mr. Clarke said all lines of business varied in the amounts of their appropriations for advertising. Department stores averaged about 5 per cent. of the turnover, while smaller stores spent about 3 per cent.

Another interrogator was informed that advertising rates in Victoria were very reasonable in comparison to other cities of the west.

G. A. A. Hedden acted as chairman and thanked the speaker.

Belmont Cabaret Has New Feature

The management of the Belmont Cabaret has secured something entirely new for a floor act to-morrow night, when "The Old-Timers" will present hill billy and popular music. The work of these four performers is practically new to the Victoria public, and their great success on the air in the last few weeks has prompted the management of the Belmont to present them to their patrons at to-morrow night's cabaret dance. As usual, Albert Price and the seven-piece Belmont Orchestra will feature the very latest dance hits. In formal dress will be vogue, making it more convenient for those who wish to drop in after tennis or golf.

Theft of flowers from the garden of J. A. Nicholson, 1014 Park Boulevard, has been reported to the city police.

Record Entry List For Annual Victoria High School Sports

THE SPORTS HURRICANE

INTO training in a few days will go Jimmy Ball, the galloping Winnipeg druggist who very early in the Olympic Games title six years ago and is no longer one of the world's great quarter-milers. The slender Manitoban competes because he loves it. He can lose as well as he could once win. If Ball should happen to win a place on Canada's British Empire Games team it would please him immensely. The White City Stadium at London. He would like to take another crack at an international field.

There is no question involved, at least there shouldn't be, of Ball becoming one of Canada's hopes in the Empire Games. He has passed his peak and his great days are behind. Just the same, the flying druggist is able to un-cork a 49-second quarter when he is right and the empire is notably lacking in runners of this calibre. Bill Fritz, Queen's University intercollegiate champion, and one or two others, may make the going tough for Ball.

Wright moved from Edmonton to Vancouver after the Olympics, where he made a better showing than any Canadian sprinter in the 100 and 200 metre events. A few years ago he ranked high among quarter-milers, and if he decides to return to the longer distance he should easily win a place on the Dominion team.

But Ball is still the man to beat in this country. He won the Canadian title last year at the 100 and 200 for this feat was awarded the Norton Crowe Memorial Trophy for being the outstanding athlete of the year. Certainly his triumph has one of the year's more dramatic developments in track.

The Winnipeg veteran finished second to Ray Barbieri of United States in the 400 metres final at the 1928 Amsterdam Olympiad. He turned his head ten yards from the tape to see his foe, threw himself out of stride and became one of track's "goats." He hasn't made any more errors like that, but the track has been against him consistently.

In the Hamilton Empire Games he fell at the finish of a 220 yards heat and injured his leg. He was back from being at his best for the quarter-mile final and failed to place. Shortly before the Los Angeles Olympics an attack of boils kept him from training properly, and again he was beaten. He's older now and about ready to receive a smile from Lady Luck. The chances are bright that the flying druggist will win himself another overseas trip.

Tommy Gorman's resignation as manager of Chicago Black Hawks recently emphasised the high turnover of National Hockey League coaching brains in recent years. Not that Gorman's resignation was forced. He made the Hawks over into world champions in one season and could have had a new contract with a higher salary had he wished to stay with Chicago. As a general thing the reputation of a coach has to be earned, and plenty of them have had to exit as gracefully as possible. While a new guide for the Stanley Cup winners next season is certain, there have been no definite hints as to who the new N.H.L. cities intend to hire as managers or coaches. George Boucher may drop out of the N.H.L. picture in the hands of the Senators from Ottawa, but otherwise the lineup of pilots is likely to be unchanged.

Gorman was the seventh manager or coach Hawks have used since their entrance into the league in 1926, with Sprague Cleghorn nearly as successful as the Ottawa. The late Pete Muldon was first, followed by Hugh Lehman, Bill Tobin, Claude Irvin, Doc Matheson and Emil Veron.

Lester Patrick has the longest continuous service record. He has been charged with the Chicago Rangers since they entered the league in 1926. Detroit, too, has been a happy spot for managers, only Jack Adams and Art Duncan have plotted them in their eight-year history.

Nearly 500 Young Athletes Compete In Events May 25

Competitors For Boys' and Girls' Events Announced; Fine Programme
Eliminations To Commence May 14

With a record entry list of close to 500 in the various events, this year's annual track and field meet of the Victoria High School on Friday, May 25, promises to be one of the finest in the history of the institution. With an abundance of first-class athletic material on hand, records in all divisions are expected to take a bad beating. Eliminations will get under way on May 14 and continue throughout the week. This will give the finalists a week's rest before they face the starter in the title battle. Due to the large entry list the finals in some events may be run off before May 25. The list of entries was announced to-day, with the possibility of additional contributions in the girls' events.

Teresa Lee-Warner will be out to defend her crown in the senior division against such strong contenders as Irene Brockington, 1933 Intermediate champ, and Joseline McCarter. Murray Patrick, last year's senior boys' champ, has left a vacant throne. Ralph Shepherd, Lorne McGregor, Doug Haddon and Dick Surphill are all on fairly even terms to fill the vacancy and a great battle is expected between the four.

Claudia Jesse and Ann Moyes are the foremost threats in the intermediate division, with A. Jackson favored to cop the boys' intermediate title.

CUP FOOTBALL GAMES BILLED

Double Programme Carded at Athletic Park Saturday; Esquimalt Meets City

Cup soccer fixtures will hold sway to-morrow afternoon at the Athletic Park with Victoria City playing Esquimalt in a McGavin Cup match, and Victoria West and the Saanich Thistles second eleven meeting in a Peden Cup fixture. Net gate receipts from the matches will be devoted to the injured players' fund. The City-Esquimalt match will open the programme at 2:30 o'clock, to be followed by the Thistles-West game at 4 o'clock. In the case of a tie overtime will be played.

Despite the fact that they have been idle for some weeks, Esquimalt will be favored to defeat Victoria City in the McGavin Cup match. Victoria City, in their last appearance, went down to a 1-0 defeat at the hands of Victoria West.

The second match between Victoria West and the Saanich Thistles' second division teams, brings together the leaders in this section and should provide some good competition. The greenhorns accounted for the suburban eleven in their last fixture at the enclosure, but the Thistles' followers feel confident their boys will reverse the tables to-morrow.

Some of to-morrow's teams follow: Esquimalt—DeCosta, Joe Watt, Hay, Sweeney, Boyd, Barnswell, Pepin, A. Stewart, John Watt, Wagland, Warner, Hicks, B. Stewart and McLean. Saanich Thistles, second division—Morrison, Campbell, Duncan, Ewing, McNeil, Gent, Embrey, McCall, Kennedy, Morgan, Noble, Essler and Brown.

LONG SOCCER SEASON ENDS

English Clubs Drop Curtain To-morrow; Several Important Engagements

London, May 4.—The long soccer season ends in England to-morrow, a week later than the Scottish, and some of the very last games will be all-important to a number of clubs.

Preston North End, Bolton Wanderers and Bradford City are all fighting for the right to accompany Grimsby Town from the second to the first division next season. Bolton Wanderers have an easy task with Lincoln City, the tail-enders. Preston travel to Southampton. Brentford has a difficult away match at Bury.

Manchester United and Millwall clash on the former's grounds in a match that will decide which team will do its playing in the third division next autumn.

In the third northern championship is still open—along with the right to get up into the second division for the winning team.

Stockport County entertain Chesterfield, who led the division for many months. If they beat Chesterfield and Barnsley lose their match at the post. The field got away to a good start, Light Brocade racing in front of Honey Buzzard, Tetrapylon and Playful, Campanula running fifth.

After half a mile the favorite was sent up to the front, taking the lead over Light Brocade. Spend a Penny and Bonura, White Sox, 4, 3. Home runs—Klein, Cubs, and Ott, Giants, 6.
Hits—Moore, Giants, 23.
Stolen bases—Five with two each. Pitching—Bush, Cubs, 4-6.
AMERICAN LEAGUE
Batting—Reynolds, Red Sox, 4-1.
Runs—Morgan, Red Sox, 13.
Runs batted in—Reynolds, Red Sox, 16.
Hits—Reynolds, Red Sox, 23.
Doubles—Werber, Red Sox, 8.
Triples—Manush, Senators, 3.
Home runs—Fox, Athletics, and Bonura, White Sox, 4.
Stolen bases—Walker, Tigers, 7.
Pitching—Three with 3-0.

Meanwhile there comes news from New York that some interesting experiments are being introduced in the rigging-out of the defending champions. Heavy Genoa jibs of fifteen-ounce duck, instead of six-ounce will be used on the America's Cup defence yachts during the coming summer. They are already being cut.

The idea is to use heavy canvas that will keep its shape. In the past the huge long-footed light sails, set with masts on the wind without jib or staysail, have stretched whenever it became breezy.

OLD-TIME HUNTING

In April, 1856, Mr. Wood and Mr. Foster of Shefford, Canada, got together 150 hunters to shoot game which ate farm crops 82,844 animals and birds were slain in 8 days -- including 75,103 squirrels.

O.P. Seeman sliced a ball 300 miles. He drove into box car at Port Colborne, Canada, and a friend found the ball in Walkerville. He returned it.

Melba Neal and Benyl Quirk caught 5 fish, needed 1 more. They saw a garter-snake battling a trout; pulled the snake out -- and the fish with it! Redding, Calif.

Campanula Captures Classic For Fillies

Sir George Bulldough's Entry Scores Fourth Successive Victory to Win One Thousand Guineas at Newmarket; Light Brocade Second

Canadian Press
Newmarket, Eng., May 4.—Sir George Bulldough's good three-year-old filly Campanula to-day won the classic One Thousand Guineas stakes over the mile course here.

Lord Durham's Light Brocade was second and Sir Alfred Butt's Spend a Penny, ridden by the veteran Steve Donoghue, was third in the 120th running of the historic event, one of the turf's five classics for three-year-olds.

Campanula scored her fourth consecutive victory since two defeats at the start of her racing career last year under the handling of Jockey Harry Wragg.

Nine ran, the race being worth approximately $30,000. The filly was very fractious at the post. The field got away to a good start, Light Brocade racing in front of Honey Buzzard, Tetrapylon and Playful, Campanula running fifth.

St. Louis Cards Win Five In Row

Continue Hitting Wave to Turn Back Phillies 8 to 7; Giants Win and Cubs Lose; Whole American League Programme Rained Out

St. Louis Cardinals, riding the crest of a hitting wave, apparently have begun to justify some of the predictions made for them before the National Baseball League season started.

After losing seven of their first nine games, the Cards began hitting and coming back last Sunday. An 8 to 7 triumph over the Phillies yesterday made it five in a row in this sport and gave them a .500 average.

In the course of this streak they have collected sixty hits and thirty-four runs to make victories possible although only one pitcher has gone the route. Yesterday's contribution was eleven hits off Phil Collins, of which Joe Medwick, young leader of his clouting parade, collected two singles and his fourth home run of the campaign.

BRVES BEAT CUBS
The St. Louis winning streak, while it has improved the Cards' standing considerably, has not won them a first division berth so far. Boston Braves, the only team they had a chance of out for the first time, yesterday, came through with a smashing 6 to 0 victory over Chicago Cubs and went into a tie with the defeated Pittsburgh club a half a game ahead of the Cards.

Ed Brandt added to the southpaw plague that has bothered the Cubs recently by holding the Chicago slugger to two putouts and a strike out for the first time. The Braves, meanwhile, smacked Pat Malone for nine blows, including homers by Marty McManis and Wally Berger.

New York Giants, led by Travis Jackson, improved their position at the top of the standing by defeating the Pittsburgh Pirates, 5 to 3. Jackson accounted for four runs with a triple with loaded bases and a home run.

Brooklyn and Cincinnati battled through seven scoreless innings before the Dodgers got to Ray Kopp for three runs, enough to win 3 to 2, in the eighth.

Rain wiped out all four American League games, leaving for to-day the eastern openings with Cleveland at Washington, Chicago at Philadelphia, Detroit at New York, and St. Louis at Boston.

INTERNATIONAL LEAGUE
Alopes of the clubs picked in pre-season forecasts to battle it out for the International League pennant, Rochester Red Wings have played consistent, winning ball in the first two weeks of the campaign.

Supporting the best pitching of the loop with tight fielding and timely batting, the Red Wings have pulled away from the pack, leading over the rest of the field.

Beaten only three times, twice by 1 to 0 counts, Rochester hung up its tenth victory yesterday, a 4 to 1 conquest of the hapless Baltimore Orioles. Tony Kaufman was in form for the Red Wings, allowing only four hits.

Gene Schott was wall-patched for thirteen hits by the Albany Senators but was effective in the pinches and Toronto earned a 6 to 4 decision that strengthened their hold on second place. Ed Chapman, wildcatter, he walked eight men and made a wild pitch, was his own undoing.

Buffalo Bisons blasted out ten runs against New York in the first six innings, and then held to hold on grimly to win 10 to 8. Ollie Carnege, Chick Outen and Ollie Tucker for Buffalo and George Selkirk, Joe Glenn and Vince Barton for Newark contributed homers.

Eleven runs in the sixth, the biggest scoring spurge of the season, gave Montreal Bopale an easy 15 to 4 victory over Syracuse Chiefs. The Royals sent fourteen men to the plate in the big sixth, gathering ten of their fourteen hits in that frame.

AUTO RACING DRIVER DIES

J. McBride, Los Angeles, Killed in Pile-up on Track at Oakland

Oakland, Cal., May 4.—Death rode with the auto racers here yesterday, and in two spectacular accidents, Jimmy McBride, Los Angeles, was killed, and three speedway companions were injured, one critically.

McBride, mechanic in a machine piloted by "Pinky" Richardson, also of Los Angeles, was shot shortly after another steel flyer had crashed at the same spot, inflicting skull injuries on Jim Miller, twenty-one, Ingewood, Calif., which hospital authorities said might prove fatal.

The accidents took place during time-up sprints for the 250-mile Oakland speedway road race, to be held here next Sunday.

Miller's mechanic, Chris Vest, twenty-six, Los Angeles, was driving the car when it crashed at a banked turn of the new track. The machine rolled over several times, crushing Miller's skull. He had qualified Wednesday for the race.

Shortly after the wreckage had been cleared, Richardson's car piled up at the same spot, fatally injuring his mechanic. Both cars were traveling at about eighty miles per hour when the smash-ups came.

Vest and Richardson each received internal injuries, the extent of which could not be immediately ascertained, but were not believed to be seriously hurt, however.

CAVALCADE IS RACE CHOICE

Reigns 2 to 1 Favorite to Head Field in Kentucky Derby To-morrow

Louisville, Ky., May 4.—The beauty and the chivalry of the three-year-old thoroughbred world will race to-morrow for the honors that go with victory in the most famous stake on the United States turf, the Kentucky Derby.

But take it or leave it, you can put down this tip from the betting man and the blacksmith: at least one gentleman at the party will refuse to see the ladies home first.

Perhaps one or both of the popular equine beauties involved in this affair, Charles T. Fieber's flashy Mat Hari and Col. Edward R. Bradley's more sedate Bazar, will disprove the supposition of masculine superiority but the odds are against them.

If a lady is to enjoy the thrills of triumph, it is more likely to be Miss Isabella Dodge Bogue, New York, and Florida sportswoman, whose crack colt cavalcade rules the 2 to 1 favorite, it is more likely to be Mr. Clock. If something more convincing than the betting odds is required, there's the word of the blacksmith who will carry the aluminum racing plates to the twinkling hoofs of the Brookmeade Stables pair.

"Colt or Cavalcade, there's no horse that can beat Cavalcade in this derby," he volunteers.

The Australians won by an innings and 297 runs, aided by Bradman's brilliant innings of 206 and fine bowling by the veteran slow bowler, Clarence Grimmett, and young Bill O'Reilly.

CARNERA HAS MIGHTY SHAKE

Heavyweight Champ Makes Baer Wince as Pair Meet at New York

New York, May 4.—The super-dreadnaught of the heavies, Primo Carnera, met Max Baer, his glittering challenger, socially, yesterday, for the last time before their heavyweight title tussle on June 14, and the honors rest until then with the huge Italian champion.

The occasion was the formal signing of the fifteen-round match in the Madison Square Garden Bowl, on Long Island, and the boys gathered eagerly for the belated ceremony, hoping for physical fireworks after the verbal lambasting the pair have been giving each other for the past few days.

Baer, picture of the well-dressed man, was waiting in the Garden Club as the champion heaved his great bulk into the picture. Carnera marched straight to him, showing all his ivory in a toothy smile, and grabbed the challenger's fist in one of the mightiest handshakes in fistie history. "How do you feel?" he belted Primo, putting all his 278 pounds into his grip.

Baer winced and bent slightly. "I feel better June 14," he admitted.

Maximilian recovered in time to bust up the orderly procedure of the signing of the occasion by announcing in the middle of a couple of rehearsed speeches that there was no maybe about the situation.

ENTRY DATE IS EXTENDED

Set May 7 as Final Day For Filing Softball Entries; Thirty-one Teams in

WILL DISCUSS TENNIS TRIALS
Complete Plans To-night For Series to Select Canadian Davis Cup Team

Ottawa, May 4.—Preparations will be completed use the weekend for the Davis Cup trials to select the Canadian team for entry in the international tennis tournament. The trials will be held at the Toronto Tennis Club on May 11.

To-night a meeting will be held in Toronto to select the Ontario players to compete in the trials. Walter Martin, Toronto, Canada's ranking number one player, has already been picked for the team and the first place was that four players from Montreal and three from Ontario, along with a player from British Columbia, should compete for the remaining places.

NEW PLAN
Since then a new suggestion has been advanced to the effect that Montreal and Ontario send fewer players into the trials, holding elimination tournaments if necessary to select their entries. The proposal is that Montreal pick three and Ontario one or two. The British Columbia contender is Oak Ryal, Vancouver.

The meeting to-night will reach a decision as to how many Ontario players will enter the trials. The complete list of contenders and the draw will likely be announced early next week.

Frank Dean, Oklahoma, clad in a purple bathing suit, was disqualified when he kicked John Katan, Winnipeg. They had only been wrestling a little more than three minutes.

SPORTS DAY AT GANGES

Annual Public Schools' Event on Salt Spring Island Marred By Rain

Ganges, May 4.—The annual public schools' Sports Day held on the Mahon Hall grounds, was marred by rain.

Mothers Get Praise For Neat Children

Festival Adjudicator Notices Appearance of Children's Choirs; Standing Room Only For Afternoon School Competitions

"We would like to congratulate the mothers and sometimes the fathers for turning out all these children so spick and span," observed Dr. Percy Hull, chief adjudicator, during yesterday afternoon's programme of the Victoria Musical Festival at First United Church, when school choirs were again in joyful abundance.

The Britisher added he did not like to see the children too wet and "got up" and that he did not like children who washed their faces too much. This remark was followed by a chorus of "Ohs" from anxious mothers.

Standing room only was the order for the greater part of the afternoon. There were eighteen different school choirs competing in the three separate classes, of Grades 6, 7 and 8 choirs, to which the adjudicator was particularly attracted.

Major prizes were won as follows: Arion Club Challenge Shield for highest marks for Grades 6, 7 and 8 choirs, to Quadra School (Grade 7); George Jay Challenge Shield for composite choirs, retained by the Quadra School composite choir with a mark of 175; first prize for best Grade 6 choir, Oaklands School (171); first prize for best Grade 7 or 8 choir, Quadra School, Grade 7 (177); Saanich Athletic Association Senior Cup for Saanich Grade 6, 7 or 8 choir obtained.

100-yard dash for boys, 14 and over—1, George Anderson, Ganges; 2, Fred Roland, Isabella Point; 3, Douglas Parsons, Ganges.

100-yard dash for girls, 14 and over—1, Leola Whims, Central; 2, Eileen Cearley, Burgoyne; 3, Daisy Evans, Ganges.

ing highest marks, to the Cloverdale Grade 8 singers.

With reference to the Brahms "Lullaby," one of the test pieces for the composite choirs, Dr. Hull told an amusing story. At a fashionable dinner, an enthusiastic lady was raving on about Brahms when a naval officer cut the monologue short by asking, "What are Brahms?" Dr. Hull said he himself had played the accompaniment for a lady singer who had known Brahms and he had seen the score of the present test piece pencil-marked in the master's own handwriting.

In another connection, Dr. Hull said he had always thought a good test of education was an ability to do what one wanted when one had to, no matter how one felt about it.

Once again, the adjudicators reiterated what they have been doing since Tuesday—the fact of their pleasure at the singing of the children, particularly in the choral events. Dr. Collingwood made an interesting point in dealing with the Grade 7 and 8 choirs. After affirming he had noticed a certain constraint in the tone of voice of these older choirs in comparison to those from the lower grades, he added that this was due to the psychology of the older pupils, the growth of a sense of shyness and self-consciousness, and therefore of effort.

However, the most lavish praise of all was bestowed on the Quadra School Grade 7 choir, which secured the highest marks of the day, 85, for "Merry Winks of Springtime," which Dr. Collingwood said he did not like much as a test piece, and 89 for German's "O Peaceful Night."

At First Baptist Church in the afternoon, Thomas Dunhill adjudicated four piano forte classes.

In the junior boys' piano solo, the victor was Dick Higgins with 85, and Donald Nelson and Ian Grant were tied for second with 83. The elementary boys' solo went to John Swainson, with 171, and Frank Moore came second with 168.

The elementary piano duo class resulted in Peggy O'Neill and Sheila MacArthur leading a good entry with 83 marks; Margaret Reid and Rosalie Bradford, who were second, scored 87.

Violet and Geraldine P. Mellor, who are one of the finest young pianoforte duets in the city and always do well together at festivals, were best in the intermediate duo class with 88.

Isabelle and Alex Ord finished two marks behind. Of the playing of the winners Mr. Dunhill said their rhythm was smart and nimble, and the performance was exceedingly good. The test piece was the "Moto Perpetuo," of York Bowen, who adjudicated here last year.

In the course of the afternoon, the adjudicator explained that "andante" really meant walking, and "andante con moto" was walking at a fair pace. "Ritenu" was just a very slight pulling back of the time. The making of a sudden change at such a time was a fault which seemed particularly common to Victoria.

Doreen Daniel Is Best In Oratorio

Young Singer Scores Notable Victory in Open Class at Musical Festival; New Fireside Music Competition Proves Popular

A very gratifying experience came the way of one of the city's younger singers, Miss Doreen Daniel, at First United Church yesterday evening, when she was awarded first prize in the Victoria Musical Festival's oratorio class after some highly interesting singing by a number of the festival's most experienced vocalists.

Not only did Miss Daniel carry off the honors, but she did so with the especially high mark of 91, which was just one ahead of that of Mrs. Roy T. Brumbaugh, of Tacoma.

George F. H. Farmer and Miss Isabella Crawford were third and fourth, respectively. There were six entries.

"My colleagues feel that such singers as these are an asset to the festival," said Dr. Arthur Collingwood when adjudicating the oratorios. Some of the competitors were of "near-professional" standard and we congratulate Victoria for being able to produce such talent.

Miss Daniel's own selection was the exciting "Lullaby" from "The Nutcracker" of Tchaikovsky, which she sang with a beautiful coloratura passages, and Mrs. Brumbaugh chose the very stirring "Moto Perpetuo" of York Bowen.

At the same time, Mr. Dunhill, showing his versatility in his most important work here is with the piano players, adjudicated the senior instrumental trio class for violin, cello and piano. The only entry consisted of John Pimm, violin; Herbert Botten, cello, and Margaret Pringle, piano. They got 86 for the andantino and finale from Opus 43 (Gade).

The adjudicator found high merit in the sustained energy and capital tone of the trio, but added that a little more technical ease would have made an even better performance.
